Angry residents seek answers

A heated, and often spirited debate on the high water levels being experienced in the Minden area was the order of the evening Monday as concerned property owners met with officials of the Trent - Severn Waterway system to discuss the problem. An overflow crowd of close to 100 were on hand for the meeting organized by the Anson, Hindon and Minden township council.

After three hours of debate, accusations, explanations, and several touches of black humour, the only consensus which appeared to emerge from the gathering was that little could be done to alleviate the problem except wait for conditions to ease and hope in the meantime that additional rain doesn't aggravate the situation. Before the meeting closed however, members of the municipal council endorsed a resolution suggesting that while they could sympathize with the Trent - Severn authority's dilemma, there was a need for the organization to carry out engineering studies in this portion of the system as well as recognize the municipality's legitimate interest in the authority's activities with regard to water control.

Four members of municipal council were in attendance including Reeve Lyle McKnight who chaired the meeting. Deputy-reeve Ed Pergolas was absent. Representing the Trent - Severn Authority was its director John Lewis, the supervisor of water levels, Bruce Kitchen and the manager of Haliburton Highlands area dams Herb Ireland.

for example, appeared to maintain an average water level. The Trent - Severn spokesman responded that those lakes are over-filled now. He said restrictions in the water flow system result ease the problems in that area. "Water can only be moved so fast," he commented.

"But, does the rain we receive have to mean a seven foot increase in the level of the river?" one member of the audience asked. The response was yes. Kitchen noted that seven inches of water fell in a very short period of time, at a time of year when area lakes were being held at close to capacity to help meet summer needs on the canal system.

Herb Ireland pointed out that all the stop logs had been removed from the Gull Lake dam, indicating a maximum flow was being allowed to pass through, a week prior to flood conditions becoming evident in the Minden area.

John Lewis described the situation leading up to the flooding as an "unusual winter", a theme which was repeated several times through the weekend.

Don Heaven, speaking as a resident of Horseshoe Lake area said many property owners on the lake are experiencing property damage as a result of the high water. He suggested the authority was caught with too much water when the rains came leaving no buffer for additional rainfall. "Boathouses are flooded, septic systems are underwater," he told the meeting. He said the lake association

The meeting followed a question and answer format.

Bruce Kitchen was asked by Minden resident Gord Monk to explain why lakes and rivers in the Minden area were filled to overflowing earlier this month when lakes south of here, Balsam

Studies confirm acid rain impact on water

Two new studies by the Ontario Ministry of the Environment conclude that some ground water used for private domestic supplies in the Muskoka-Haliburton and Sudbury areas tends to be slightly acidic.

This acidity is believed, in some instances, to be accumulated result of acid rain. However, preliminary studies show that carbon dioxide (CO₂) content plays an important role in low pH values in ground water. CO₂ picked up from the atmosphere and from soil combines with water to form carbonic acid, and this process can be an important contributor to the acidity of ground water. Because of the demonstrated dependence of pH on CO₂, it would appear that acid precipitation has not affected deeper ground water to a large extent in the Muskoka-Haliburton and Sudbury areas.

The acidity interacts with plumbing fixtures and may result in higher than normal concentrations of copper, zinc and lead in unflushed tap waters in cottages and permanent residences using private water supplies. In some cases, copper and lead accumulations are above the Ontario drinking water objectives in samples collected after the water had stood unused in a system.

The solution, says the Ministry, is simply to let the tap run for about one minute before drinking.

The drinking water objective for copper is 1.0 milligram per litre (mg/L) and for zinc 5.0 mg/L. While both copper and zinc are essential to health in low concentrations, at levels above the objectives they impact on objectionable taste to the water.

Drinking water with high accumulations of lead may cause human disorders, and the drinking water objective of 0.05 mg/L has been developed based on toxic effects produced by continuous lifetime consumption. Exact toxic levels may vary among consumers and the objective is considered a conservative value that can be exceeded occasionally without ill effects.

A study released in 1982 by Health and Welfare Canada on private domestic lake water supplies in Muskoka found results similar to those in the Ministry's domestic ground-water supply studies, which began in 1980.

As a result of the Environment Ontario studies, supplemented by the Health and Welfare study, the Ministry will be working with the local Medical Officers of Health and the appropriate municipalities to inform residents of the situation. As part of this action, residents will receive notices through various public communication channels, advising those on private domestic water supply systems in the areas to flush their plumbing systems prior to drinking. The test of the advisory notice reads as follows:

NOTICE

Your private water supply system draws water from a lake or well located in an acid-sensitive area of Ontario. Waters in these areas may have a low capacity to neutralize acids from natural sources or from acid rain.

It water is left stagnant overnight, copper, lead and zinc may accumulate in metal plumbing systems. Since drinking water with high accumulations of lead may cause human disorders, a limit has been developed based upon lifetime consumption.

Copper and zinc are

The corporate seal of the County of Haliburton was presented to Warden Bill Howe by Claude Bennett, minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing. The historic occasion commemorated the elevation of the former Provisional County of Haliburton to full county status. The ceremony took place at the last county council meeting May 18.

Suggestions for appointment of Chamber directors rejected

With a statement which surprised many county councillors, Stanhope Deputy Reeve Elgin Stouffer, also the council liaison with the Chamber of Commerce, suggested that council appoint all the directors of the Chamber. The idea was broached at the May 18 county council meeting.

There is only one director on the chamber board from the outlying areas said Stouffer. That director, Joe Paul, is from the Cardiff-Bicroft area, in the eastern side of the county. The balance of the directors come from Dysart, Anson, Hindon and Minden and Stanhope said the deputy reeve.

To correct the problem of Chamber criticism, Stouffer said representatives are needed from other townships. "Naturally, directors are going to use the Chamber for the areas they come from," he said.

"It's an unhappy situation with representatives from only parts of the county," he continued. He suggested the county appoint directors, both to better control the money the county allots to the Chamber and also to ensure a proportionate amount of representation from other areas.

Sherborne Deputy Reeve Donald Shortreed said that a method of alternating committee meetings around the county may encourage more members from the perimeter areas.

Lutterworth Reeve Ron Gambell asked if the method of election could be changed to permit other members. Stouffer replied the elections are not the problem.

The debate was discontinued but reintroduced near the end of the meeting. Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey then said the board of directors of the Chamber "are a volunteer group of business people." The county also has a representative.

The reeve said he hadn't spoken up earlier because he was "amazed" by the comment.

Fearrey said if the county started to interfere and appoint directors, the onus would be on council to find the representatives. "You'd better be prepared to take over the Chamber in that eventuality," he said.

Stouffer replied it is an unhappy situation to have only one vote for the county for most of the funding.

"The Chamber of Commerce went to great lengths" to illustrate the uses to which county money is put, said Fearrey. The county budget committee looked over the chamber proposal as well with Stouffer as Chamber representative in attendance. The county "can't get involved with the day to day operation of the Chamber of Commerce," remarked the Dysart reeve.

Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Lyle McKnight said Tuesday, he was "kind of surprised" by Stouffer's statement. A representative from county council may encounter problems, "but at the same time, the representative is to give as much advice as they'll (the Chamber) take." McKnight said the onus is on the Chamber to prove to the county's representative the money is well spent. "Their success will determine the grant for next year," said McKnight.

Program starts to take shape

Plans for the Canada Day celebrations in Minden are starting to take shape. The committee spear-heading the organization of the events for the day met Wednesday (May 18) evening at the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal office.

Pat Balcombe and Robin Bailey are co-ordinating the day's activities which will centre around a family picnic at the fair grounds. While many of the suggestions offered Wednesday evening were simply that, during the next few weeks plans will be formulated to turn these ideas into a final program. Among the ideas being considered for the day are: pony rides, hay rides, a horse-shoe pitching contest, presentation by local musical talent, a bike decoration contest, tennis tournament, treasure hunt and a series of races for children and adults.

The Minden firemen have offered to supervise a fireworks display and have volunteered funds to help pay for some of the costs. The firemen are also interested in presenting a demonstration of automobile extrication. A huge bonfire might also be organized for the end of the day.

A tentative schedule would see races for children held during the afternoon with events, including those for the adults, coming before and after the supper hour. Families would be encouraged to bring a picnic lunch or take advantage of several food booths being set up by local service clubs and groups. Refreshments for the children will be provided through the committee.

A firm program of events is expected to be established when the committee meets next Wednesday (June 8).

In the meantime, accounts have been established at both banks in Minden for those wishing to donate funds to the cost of the celebration. As Robin Bailey pointed out, the purpose of the day is to have fun, not to make money. However, she pointed out that some costs will have to be incurred and donations to the fund would be gratefully acknowledged. An application for federal funding to support the event has been made. The group expects to hear shortly about the success of that application.

Any group of individual wishing to contribute to the day, financially or through the organizing of an event, should contact Pat Balcombe at 286-1281 or Robin Bailey at 286-3332.

Impact study rejected

The dioxin debate continued at county council when Sonya Holliday-Rhodes presented the opposing point of view, countering Ontario Hydro's presentation at council's meeting a month previous.

Holliday-Rhodes, speaking for the Haliburton County Anti-Pollution Committee, presented "an environmentalist's viewpoint on chemical spraying en masse in this county".

Agriculture Canada discovered four different kinds of dioxins in the herbicide 24D and subsequently dictated that, beginning in 1982, herbicides would be free of dioxins. The level of 10 parts per billion was set as the limit and companies have succeeded beyond that limit to .1 parts per billion. Holliday-Rhodes said analysis threw some doubt on the consistency of the level of purity.

Another Agriculture Canada report on dioxins found in 24D revealed "these dioxins are a family of chemical compounds with toxic, carcinogenic and other adverse biological properties," said Holliday-Rhodes.

"Herbicides like 24D and Tordon Picloram have a history of appearing in water supplies due to spray drift, direct spraying ...and storm runoff," she said.

Holliday-Rhodes related that a top American pathologist, Dr. Melvin Reuber, contested findings made in the US by the Environmental Protection Agency and the National Cancer Institute. He reviewed slides "prepared by researchers hired by the Federal Government" and "saw, one after another, cancers that had spread through the bodies of rats, where previously the researchers had found no malignancies."

The committee president also said Ontario Hydro has yet to supply her with "a reliable, comparative cost-analysis covering an acceptable length of time between spraying and manual removal of foliage."

Holliday-Rhodes also suggested that an impact study be done on the area, that, taking into consideration high unemployment, the cost efficiency of spraying may not be presently justified and that county council should take a "stand on this mass use of herbicides" in order to demonstrate to the people of this county and its visitors, that they do really care. She also mentioned her surprise at the "acceptance of birth defects and cancer in our society as part of the 'norm.'"

Peter Webster of Ontario Hydro said Tordon is rarely used in the county. The transmission rights of way in the area serviced by the Minden office do not often require its use.

An impact study was planned for the county after traces of TCDD were discovered in the herbicide Hydro was using at the time, 245T. However, because the herbicide's use was discontinued, Hydro decided against carrying out the study, he said.

Webster said there are several dioxins in the 24D but said TCDD had not been found in the herbicide.

Webster said that the lack of consistency Holliday-Rhodes mentioned is not a problem. "There are two years the material measured at those levels," he said. "It means careful manufacturing, no question about it," he added. Hydro has purchased 24D in 1981 and 1982.

County council rejected Holliday-Rhodes' request that an impact study be done. They also denied her request to return with a more lengthy presentation.

Mapping tender awarded

Anson, Hindon and Minden has received verbal confirmation of the local steering committee's choice of engineers to carry out flood plain mapping in the township. Clerk-treasurer Elinor Burke said Paragon Engineering, the lowest tender, was accepted by the high level committee.

Reeve Lyle McKnight said the local committee consisting of Ministry of Natural Resources staff, councillors and residents had agreed to accept the Paragon tender after being assured of the quality of work.

Paragon Engineering tendered a price of $11,975 with options of $6,900. Only one of the option items was deemed necessary for the project.

There was some confusion surrounding the tender when the municipality received estimates ranging from about $12,000 to about $52,000 options included.

essential to health in low concentrations, and at somewhat higher levels impart an objectionable taste to the water. Objectives have been set for these substances based upon this esthetic consideration.

Studies have shown that simple cleansing, by running the tap from which drinking water is being drawn for approximately one minute, will remove accumulations of these metals from the system. Running in excess of that is not usually necessary.

Municipal consumers generally do not face this problem because municipalities are encouraged to neutralize acidic water at the water treatment plant.

For further information, please contact your local Medical Officer of Health or the nearest Ministry of the Environment office.

In 1982, the private domestic ground-water supply studies conducted in Muskoka-Haliburton and Sudbury were extended to cover the area between North Bay and Timmins. This data is being compiled and evaluated.

Future work by the Ministry on domestic supplies will include further ground-water studies east of the County of Haliburton, and west and north of the District of Sudbury.

Supplemental to private domestic ground-water studies already conducted in the Sudbury area, several private domestic lake water systems will be analysed to determine the possible leaching of trace metals from domestic plumbing systems by acidic lake waters. Most of this work will be completed in 1983.

Monday night's meeting, concerning the high water levels along the Gull River, often became bogged down under a wave of verbiage. But occasionally, through the emotion and thick answers that left questions begging, an important piece of information emerged.

Foremost among these is the fact that there is little the Trent-Severn officials can do to rectify the existing high water situation. Short of praying for the rain to cease and desist, the spokesmen for the water control agency said that all that could be done was to watch the water levels recede. As they do go down, the system will regain its capacity to absorb additional rainfall. Until that point is reached, however, and it may be several weeks away, residents along the Gull River watershed will simply have to live with the high water.

Whether such a situation would or could happen again is an unanswered question. The officials would not discount the possibility, and seemed reluctant to offer any assurances that this community would not be inundated once more.

What did surface in all the discussion which took place was that sometime in February the decision was made to severely restrict water flow. The action was taken as a result of a number of factors including the greatly reduced snowfall and the desire not to be caught short of water during the summer. That action resulted in the gradual filling of area lakes to the point where they reached 91% capacity.

Then the rains came.

Without adequate reserve space, the lakes and rivers quickly filled and then spilled over their banks.

The Trent - Severn spokesmen claim they followed a similar procedure in the past without such disastrous results. Then why did it happen this time?

That is a question that went begging for an answer Monday night. It will not be an easy one to answer, if one could be found. But it is obvious from the damage and inconvenience caused by the high water this year that the answer must be found. It was obvious as well from the mood of the crowd last night that Minden and area residents would not tolerate another extended period of flooding.

Congratulations

Hats off to the senior students and staff at Archie Stouffer Elementary School for the high quality of entertainment provided Thursday evening. The grade six, seven, and eight pupils offered a varied and pleasing program of music and drama.

It is indeed encouraging to see students taking their musical training as seriously as there performers do. The ability demonstrated at all three grade levels shows a dedication that speaks highly, not only of the students, but of their musical instructor, Glen Carter, and the drama coaches, Betty Perugino and Bonnie Fitzgerald as well.

Spring fling fireworks

Full county status

by John Eakins, M.P.P.

Last week I had the pleasure of attending a meeting of the Haliburton County Council. It was a special day in the life of the County, for it was a day when the final act took place to officially declare it a County with full status. For 107 years it had always carried the name "Provisional".

The Honourable Claude Bennett, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing, kindly consented to attend and presented Warden Bill Howe with the Corporate Seal of the County. This was followed by the unveiling of the new county sign. The wardens, councils and staff all deserve credit for their dedicated work and thorough research in presenting this application to the province. The early initiative was taken by former Warden Murray Fearrey, followed by former Warden Ron Gambell, and the present Warden, William Howe.

History shows that it all started 107 years ago when the Honourable and later Sir Oliver Mowat introduced the Haliburton Act into the Ontario Legislature.

Minister for "Women's Issues"

The appointment of a minister with special jurisdiction over issues of particular concern to women has been strongly favoured by my colleagues for some time. However, we are far more interested in substance than symbolism. We have therefore called upon the new Minister to take early and decisive action on a number of issues.

Equal Pay Legislation: Three decades after the adoption of the Female Employee's Fair Remuneration Act in 1951, how much progress has been made? Full-time working women earn, on average, 64% of a man's wage. Average income of families headed by women is about $15,000 a year, compared to a man's $29,000. Wage gap between men and women workers is almost as great as at the height of the depression fifty years ago.

Our Party has been on record in favour of equal pay for work of equal value since 1977/78.

Affirmative Action: The government's three-year-old Affirmative Action Program in the Ontario public service is a bitter joke for women. Its total lack of

Editor:

Regarding the letter in last week's Times, I feel it is necessary to reply in due fairness to Yvonne's "Around a County Town" column.

Really, it is hard to know how you can please some people. Everyone I have spoken to so far enjoys her column. It has what is going on, such as Mrs. Jones visited Mrs. Smith, notices and condolences to families who have lost a dear one, greetings to those who are in hospital, happy birthday wishes, congratulations to people who have a new baby, church festivities and eucyre results. Then she adds a bit of class by offering culture and arts etc., etc.

This lady, who is a credit to our society, surely must be appreciated.

Besides, being a very, very fine lady, she is an author, artist and poet. She is also a very kind person, who is willing to give a helping hand, willing to share your troubles, she is full of understanding.

All done up in 'one package, Yvonne is a person you are proud to call your friend. I appoint her the lady of the year.

Lets stick by her folks and if you have anything that you feel might be news, call Yvonne. Call her anyway. Her phone number is 286-2539. She would be so pleased to hear from you.

Maybe Yvonne's vocabulary is too heavy for a certain person. Remember there is always Webster's dictionary.

So hats off to you Yvonne.

Student performers delight audience

Four members of the flute section in the grade 6 band at Archie Stouffer Elementary School concentrate on their music as they performed Thursday evening, above. Members of the grade 8 band, right, sport their new red sweaters purchased through funds donated by the Orange Lodge in Minden and monies donated by the students' council. Three members of the Highlands Dixie group, below, Ken Hadley, Rick Vaughan and Glen Carter.

An entertaining evening of music and drama was featured Thursday at the Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden. Students of the grades 6, 7 and 8 classes provided the entertainment along with a number of special guest artists.

Three bands under the direction of music instructor Glen Carter and representing students from each of the three grade levels, played several musical numbers. The young musicians demonstrated their versatility and musical knowledge on a variety of instruments.

Also featured in the program were; a piano solo by Tammy Holland; a guitar solo by Michael Wray; a grade six ensemble which included Nikki McNab, Cathy Beaver, Roselyn Oudenampsen, Frances Alton and Nick Holliday-Rhodes; a grade 6 recorder ensemble including Denise Graham, Denise Stata, Joanne Kerr, Ann Marie Muli, Melissa Jones, Kiera Connelly, Lisa Bagshaw and Josie Klockhoff; a vocal solo by Terri-Lynn Fairey who accompanied herself on guitar; a piano solo by Diane Garbutt; the grade seven alto sax ensemble with Cindy Dunham, Debbie Thomas, Tanya Willis and Tammy Pritchard; a clarinet solo by Heather Donaldson; a vocal solo by Lisa Tomlinson; an instrumental duet by Julie Holliday-Rhodes and Richard Beers; and a piano duet featuring a father and son team, Dr. Holliday-Rhodes and his son Nick.

The audience was also treated to a special appearance of the Highlands Dixie Group, an adult musical aggregation which has been entertaining for the past year. Playing the Dixieland repertoire were Rick Vaughan, Ken Hadley, Glen Carter, Charles Brandon, E. Hadley and Bill Donnery.

Members of the school's drama club, under the direction of Betty Perugino and Bonnie Fitzgerald, presented the play, 'The Trial of Captain Hero'. The humorous presentation depicted a court trial of Superman-type individual who has been accused of disrupting the lives of citizens through his efforts to stop crime and prevent disasters. The audience is asked to stand in judgement of the super hero, who is even accused of changing his clothes in a public place, a telephone booth. Needless to say the hero is acquitted of the charges and allowed to continue his battle against the meaner elements.

Members of the cast included:

Lee Raback, Corry Ziorjen, Misti Campbell, Dayna Atkinson, Jill Hamilton, Richard Beers, Liza Rendall, Jo-Anne Kerr, Christa Irwin, Dianne Garbutt, Kelly - Ann Little, Lisa Valentine, Sara Mowat, Tammy Powell, and Lori Saunders.

It was a very enjoyable evening's entertainment with the sentiments of the audience being expressed in the standing ovation which followed the closing of the program.

Full house for water level meeting has requested that the lowering of the lake's maximum levels be considered.

Lewis noted that lakes which choose a lower maximum, for example 95% of what the authority feels is normal, could be short of water by the end of the summer. He pointed out that low water levels was the main reason for the formation of the Haliburton Water Level Committee. "Some people might not like low water," he suggested.

Kitchen recalled that in 1977, when the water level committee was formed in response to numerous complaints about low levels that summer, the lakes were being held at 89% capacity in early May. "Before the heavy rain came earlier this month," he added, "area lakes were 91% full."

Feeding the canal

A degree of resentment was expressed by some people in attendance over the fact lakes on the Gull River watershed serve as reservoir lakes for the Trent canal system. References were made to "big wheels in their yachts" being responsible for the water control policies of the authority. Lewis admitted that his organization's prime responsibility was to ensure adequate water levels for navigation along the canal system. "It's been that way since the 1800's before there was any shoreline development here." He described water control for flood protection as a secondary purpose of the organization.

Bern Berry, a candidate for Anson, Hindon and Minden council in the 1982 election and property owner on Minden Lake said the water was the highest this spring that he has seen in 46 years visiting the area. He wondered aloud if the situation couldn't be traced to the fact provincial authorities have been debating with the municipal council over the establishment of a hazard zone along the Gull River. "Has this been a mechanical or human error?" he asked. "And what's being done to relieve the situation?" The question was left unanswered.

Kitchen did point out that six lakes in the Gull River system did set all-time high water records this spring. Lakes which passed previous watershed marks included Paint, Percy, Haliburton, Eagle, Twelve Mile, and Horseshoe. He noted that Twelve Mile Lake was at 130% capacity at the height of the flooding.

A cottage resort operator from Mountain Lake, John

Bath, said he had lost revenue from the high water this weekend. "One of our cottages could have been rented as a houseboat," he told the gathering, "except we didn't have pontoons under it."

Another resident of Schuyler Island in Horseshoe Lake said she was attempting to sell the property but is having trouble convincing potential buyers that this was the first time in 33 years that the causeway has been under water.

Minden resident Cy Heal suggested the high water was a response to the hazard land controversy. "It's been proven now (that this is a hazard area) either by stupidity or mistake," he said. "But, if this area is declared a hazard area we should pay only half the taxes next year."

The responsibility of the Orillia Water Light and Power Company in settling water levels was also questioned by the audience. It was revealed that the company pays the authority to ensure it is supplied with adequate water to operate its generators. However, when responsibility for Minden Lake water levels were mentioned the Orillia company has apparently told Minden Lake Ratepayers Association president Wes Kent that the responsibility rests with the Trent - Severn officials. Those same people said Monday night the responsibility rested with the power company.

Bev Robinson, a resident of Boshkung Lake and member of the Haliburton County Water Levels Committee since its inception in 1977 outlined how the group was formed in response to low water levels. He said it was a fight in previous years to supply adequate water for the entire summer season. "These people (Trent - Severn) just got caught this fall with their lakes full". Robinson admitted that in the mid 1970's little concern was given for the needs of Haliburton county property owners. He said the group has asked for help from provincial government to carry out surveys along the waterway, but they are rejected by Queen's Park, which says the problem is a federal one. Robinson suggested the formation of Conservation Authority would help to increase the amount of local control over the waterway. "The committee didn't want the lakes used for flood control," he pointed out. "That leads to unacceptable fluctuations in water levels."

Dam conditions

Referring to a report appearing in last week's edition of The Times, Reeve McKnight asked about the security of the dams at Kennisis and Paint Lakes. That report, quoting a Trent - Severn official, noted that Kennisis dam does not rest on bedrock. As Kitchen noted, since the dam rests on granular material it could be disastrous to allow the water to flow out at any point but the dam spillway. If the water flowed over the retaining wall elsewhere, it could undermine the dam creating a crisis situation.

Kitchen said such a case would probably not result in a "domino effect" on other dams in the system. He said the other dams are secure enough to withstand the impact such a washout would create. At the reeve's request, Lewis said he would prepare a detailed report for the council on the status of the upper lake dams.

Councillor Gary Kenney then suggested that if the municipality must meet criteria based on a one in one hundred year storm, it should be reasonable for the authority to meet similar standards for the structures under its control. One member of the audience said the condition of the upper dams left him fearful. The authority spokesman described a serious incident as a one in ten thousand possibility.

Little buffer

Garth Gammon, a Minden resident, suggested that the Trent - Severn Authority had not left enough of a "buffer" in the system to absorb the extra rainfall. "We're cutting it pretty fine having only an inch to spare," he commented. "Wouldn't it be better to have a six inch holding capacity?" Gammon noted the community had experienced two flood conditions in the past six months.

Lewis pointed out that the system runs the risk of not having adequate water for the entire summer season if it sets too low an amount as a buffer against unusual weather.

Lewis went on to suggest that area residents who were dissatisfied with the way in which the water levels were being managed express their concern through the Haliburton County Water Level Advisory Committee. "That is one way to get your opinion registered," Lewis commented. He noted the Authority prefers to deal with lake representatives rather than individuals pointing out that "Everyone is an expert on levels and the weather."

It was noted that even though the Orillia Water Light and Power Company has a major influence on water levels in the system, the company has never sent a representative to the committee meetings. It was suggested that the Orillia company should be present.

Councillor Gary Kenney pointed out that the Orillia company purchases its water supply from the Trent - Severn Authority. He asked the authority spokesmen to appear before representatives of the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing and the Ministry of Natural Resources to help convince them of the need for a conservation authority on the watershed. He also suggested that proper studies were needed to improve the flow of water along the river.

"We would like to see a change in policy at the Trent - Severn Authority," Kenney commented, "that recognizes that we are legitimate partners with you in our concern about you in our concern about the water which passes through our municipality." Kenney said that if tourism was about to become the number one industry in the province, then greater care will have to be exercised to ensure the lakes and rivers of the Highlands are an attraction to the visitors.

Minden resident Dick Kirkwood suggested the authority could have held the water in Kennisis Lake if that lake had been reduced in level prior to the heavy rainfall. He pointed out that while the lake at the head of the watershed is able to absorb a large amount of water, those further along did not have that flexibility. He said that local tributaries to the Gull River were returning to normal while the main river was still

New representative offers opinions

Phil Graham, a resident of Minden, weather observer and an individual who has voiced his concern about the high water levels in the past, was recently appointed as Anson, Hindon and Minden's representative on the Haliburton County Water Levels Advisory Committee. Since his appointment was recent, he was unable to speak to the audience about the activities of the committee, however, before the meeting broke up he offered a number of observations on what was said Monday night and what has taken place on the system.

- he suggested more co-operation is needed between the authority and the water levels committee and pointed out that decisions on what levels to aim for on the system may have to be resolved by a vote.

- Graham said the suggestion that the riverbed be dredged to increase the flow would result in greater bank erosion.

- he noted that the stop logs were installed upstream from Minden in February, an action he described as "not a very good decision". He said before the log went in the authority should have consulted with someone in the area about the impact. Graham noted that in his monthly report on weather conditions which appeared in the March 2 edition of The Times he wrote the following, "Much below average snow and rain. The sad, waterless, condition of Gull River is due to all dams being closed off to the north."

- he pointed out that high water has been experienced twice this year, with flooding occurring in January.

- he described the Orillia Water Light and Power Company as being as hard to deal with as the Trent - Severn Authority.

- Graham offered his 35 years of weather records to help the authority determine water level targets for the area.

flooded.

The main question on everyone's mind was what tomorrow would bring. "All we would like to know is what is going to happen?" one member of the audience asked. "Just give us a straight answer."

Lewis said, "Can you tell me if it is going to rain tomorrow?"

Ireland added that if the area is free of rain for the next week or more, a drop in levels should be obvious by next week.

Reeve Lyle McKnight suggested the lake associations should send representatives to the water levels committee to ensure their point of view is heard.

Before the meeting closed the following resolution was endorsed by the council: Be it resolved that council for Anson, Hindon and Minden is aware of the mechanical problems associated with management of the Trent - Severn Authority as it applies to periodic flooding in this municipality. But as well, (the council) recognizes that the largest problem concerns the over-all policy of the authority and the seeming neglect of proper engineering studies that would lead to installations constructed to provide the proper degree of flood control in the upper regions of the system, flood control systems that recognize this municipality's legitimate share in the authority's activities.

Scheme hurts seniors

- by Bill Scott, M.P. -

On November 17, 1982, I had the opportunity to ask the Minister of Finance a question in the House of Commons.

The basis for my question was the many letters received from you, my constituents, regarding the requirement that some senior citizens pay income tax quarterly. The law states that if over twenty five per cent of a person's income is from a source that does not deduct income tax, they must pay income tax on a quarterly basis. Repeatedly, I have asked the government to make an exception for those over the age of sixty five or on pensions. I know that many people in this situation do not understand this requirement. What it amounts to is that if a senior citizen's yearly income from interest, dividends or private pension plans is more than one quarter of their income, they must pay quarterly installments of income tax.

The Minister of Finance's response in November 17th was that he knew this to be a problem and that he would seriously consider reviewing the tax policy in this regard in consultation with the Minister of Revenue.

On March 17 of this year, I asked the Minister of Revenue if he would consider reviewing that tax policy. He stated, "I will be giving special attention to this point."

Having not had an update on what these two Ministers were planning to do, I put a question on the Order Paper of the House of Commons asking how much money was collected in penalties from senior citizens because they had not paid quarterly. The answer was approximately $31 million in 1981.

With this in mind, I asked the Ministers, on May 16, what they intended to do about this serious problem. The Minister of National Revenue said, in response, "People who are obliged to make quarterly payments are so advised by the offices of the Department of National Revenue, and as I have indicated before, the number of senior citizens to whom this procedure applies is very limited."

Unfortunately, the Minister seems to choose to ignore the situation which he acknowledged was problematic just a few short months ago.

Bicroft library

Bicroft township has received a grant from the Canada Ontario Employment Development program (COED) to help with the construction of a new library and municipal office. Reeve Bill Howe announced the grant Tuesday afternoon.

The $58,800 grant was obtained through the combined efforts of the reeve, council and the library committee headed by Sandra McColl and Shirle Charbonneau. Howe said he sent the application form outlining the project and estimating the probable cost about two months ago.

The building will cover an area of 2,500 feet and will be completed September 30. Howe said the building would take about three months to construct. The new structure will be built beside the post office and will replace the trailer which the municipality is presently using as a library. Howe noted the new library will be welcome as the township's residents borrow almost as many books as do those in Dysart.

effectiveness is abundantly clear from 1981/82 statistics. In the executive ranks, there are 598 men and only 44 women. Of public servants earning more than $59,000 a year, 275 are men and only 40 women...in spite of the fact that women make up 42% of the total public service.

Our Party is definitely in favour of mandatory Affirmative Action, of equal opportunities for women.

Family violence: When is the government going to take action on the serious and widespread problem of family violence, including funding for transition houses? When will the Select Committee's Report on Wife Battering be brought before the Legislature? When will the government make some serious and sincere attempt to bring hope and assistance to battered wives and their children?

Our Party has been constantly and actively concerned with this problem since 1977, and three years ago David Peterson tabled a Private Member's Bill proposing a surcharge on every marriage licence for the purpose of creating a fund to establish and support transition houses.

Pornography: The Government must make a real attempt to come to grips with the issue of the new pornography-filled with violence, cruelty and hatred. This is a social issue which requires a swift response by government.

These are but a few of the burning issues with which the Minister must deal-and quickly. The women of this province are not prepared to accept tokenism, stalling or empty gestures. There is a crying need for effective and far-reaching legislation. They want action-and so do we.

Association promised limited service zoning

The Soyer's Lake Ratepayers' Association has received confirmation of a request made to an earlier council concerning zoning. Anson, Hindon and Minden council representatives assured the association amendments would be made to the cottagers current category following the acceptance of the municipality's official plan, presently in an early stage.

The Association invited Anson, Hindon and Minden council to send a representative to its spring meeting and welcomed three of them to the May 22 gathering.

Reeve Lyle McKnight and Councillors Pat Burk and Gary Kenney were questioned by concerned association members about the proposed revisions to the zoning by-law the township is currently preparing.

The cottagers were primarily concerned with the new R-4 and R-5 zones the new by-law will create. They were worried about restrictions governing the use of their vacation homes during certain times of the year, and loss of property value.

McKnight said R-4 is the designation given to structures abutting a fully serviced road. These services include snowplowing and busing on the municipally maintained road. The category called R-5 is for properties without these services.

Association member Bert Tate said he had worked with the planning act and had discovered no restrictions on the creation of any reasonable zoning.

McKnight said the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing "seem just dug in with that". He conveyed the terms presently used by the Ministry were common usage, which Tate called "bureaucratic".

The council members assured the association a designation known as Permanent Occupancy with Limited Services would be instituted after amending the Official Plan.

In fact, beyond the hopes of the association members, the council members offered to pass a resolution of policy concerning the zoning. The suggestion was offered by Councillor Gary Kenney.

All three council members said they did not want to have property downgraded within the township. They said once the official plan returned with approval from the Ontario Municipal Board, the new zoning would be instituted.

The major problem with the new zoning is getting the by-law and the official plan completed.

Technically, the municipality does not have a zoning by-law although all decisions made now will be ratified retroactively by acceptance of the by-law.

McKnight said the municipality had "put the cart before the horse" in proceeding with the by-law first and following with the official plan. The zoning by-law is designed to administer the plan but without the plan in place first, the municipality will have to make a lot of amendments.

Tate asked whether work on the by-law could be slowed to enable the official plan catch up.

The reeve replied the municipality has not yet received its terms of reference for the plan and therefore cannot proceed. He said the consultant assigned to the municipality promised terms of reference before an upcoming vacation but did not fulfill the promise.

He mentioned problems with other consultants, but was primarily concerned by the number of the consultants assigned to the township. He suggested the lack of continuity has hampered efforts to proceed.

Members of the association commended the progress council has made since the November election and were encouraged by the degree of co-operation shown by council representatives.

Kent re-elected lake president

Wesley Kent has been returned to president of the Minden Lake Ratepayers Association. The election of the 1983 slate of officers for the group was held Saturday at the Stanhope Firemen's Hall. Some 100 members of the association attended the gathering which, in addition to the election, included a dance as well.

Also elected to the association's executive were vice president Bern Berry, secretary Doreen Berry and treasurer Stan Trevor. Serving as executive at large will be Margaret Tulloch, Wally Baker, Hope Jongmans, Harry Crumb, Harold Thompson and David Winkley.

During the business meeting a number of matters of concern to the group was discussed. Among the items on the agenda were: arrangements have been made for the lake to be tested by the Ministry of the Environment in relation to the excessive weed growth. Possible solutions to the problem could be forthcoming from the study. The association has also agreed to join the MOE in a voluntary testing program to monitor the water quality of the lake. The group was informed that some 4000 brook trout have been placed in the lake this spring.

Membership fees for the association were set at $2 with the funds to be used to defray the cost of mailing the four yearly newsletters.

Several members of the lake executive were asked to attend the special meeting on water levels Monday evening at the municipal offices. The group felt there were no serious problems on Minden Lake. The association has also expressed its pleasure with improved communications with the Anson, Hindon and Minden council.

Before the meeting ended, special thanks were offered to Edna and George Moulton for their hard work on behalf of the association over the years. The couple are moving to Peterborough in early June.

Minor Hockey salutes top 1982-3 players

The annual awards night and banquet of the Minden Minor Hockey Association was held May 18 at the Minden Community Centre. John Murgel, convenor for the Parry Sound - Muskoka Hockey League was the guest speaker.

Murgel explained the responsibilities that are part of his job noting that the job requires a great deal of travel and a large number of meetings during the season. As the convenor he is involved with the drafting of game schedules, assigning referees, dealing with complaints of game schedules, assigning referees, dealing with complaints from the officials and making a decision on the severity of suspensions that result from player infractions. This process can often be very time consuming as the convenor talks with game officials, coaches, the player involved and even the time-keeper. He notes he is required to make a judgement call on an incident he did not witness and therefore must rely on as many people as he can to obtain an account of what took place.

Following the speech, the association elected its slate of officers for the coming season. Mervin Barry, president of the association for the past five years, stepped down from the post.

Ron Buchanan was selected to take over as head of the organization. Assisting him will be Barry as the past president, Joe Gentle as vice president, Shirley Howe as secretary treasurer and 1982-83 directors Carl Hie, Shirley Hie, Albert Foster, Dwight Thomas and Jeff Campbell. New members on the board of directors included Jerry Campbell, Bob Wells, Barry Connelly, Claude Schrader, Anita Beaver and Charlie Muli.

Awards for the season's play were presented to the players before the evening ended. Each coach and manager presented trophies or medallions to their players.

A special presentation of the Imperial Oil ESSO awards for the most valuable player, most improved player and the most sportsman like player in each of the Atom, Pee Wee, Bantam and Juvenile teams was made by Dale MacDonald of Hall's Lake ESSO. In the Atom league the MVP was Kent Taylor, most improved - Jamie Walker and sportsman award went to Lorne Greer. In Pee Wee: MVP - Scott Russell; most improved David Shaw; sportsman - Trini Elias. In Bantam: MVP - Andrew Burk; improved - Craig Crowe; sportsman - Tom MacLeod. In the Juvenile league: MVP - Terry Crowe; improved Wade Barry; sportsman - Greg Newell.

Tina Hie presented the Minden Minor Hockey Association with a large banner purchased with funds earned selling hockey pins at tournaments. The banner should be a great addition to the Minden arena.

One final note on the presentations. The Minden Juveniles winners of the Muskoka Cup, were to have received the trophy Wednesday evening. However, the presenter and guest speaker for the evening, John Murgel, forgot to bring it with him.

It was a relatively quiet weekend in Haliburton County according to the Ontario Provincial Police in Minden. The authorities report the number of automobile accidents was down by about 50%. As well the number of criminal offences investigated was about half of those experienced last year.

The one exception to the decline was in the number of impaired drivers. A total of 16 were charged by the police during the weekend.

The rock concert at the Minden arena resulted in 23 liquor charges being laid. The concert was patrolled by five OPP vehicles, each with two officers.

The presence of a large number of members of a motorcycle gang in the area caused little more than heightened curiosity among those who saw the club members on their motorcycles.

Other than increased traffic flows, the police report it was a fairly quiet weekend throughout the Highlands.

Injury

A motorcyclist, driving a 1937 model Harley-Davidson motorcycle found himself awash in a swamp adjacent to the Deep Bay Road Saturday afternoon. The driver, 33 year old Danile Stewart of Scarborough was discovered lying in the water at about 4 p.m.

He was taken by ambulance to Minden Red Cross Hospital where he was treated for broken ribs and other cuts and bruises. He was later transferred to Lindsay hospital.

The accident was investigated by Constable David Ross.

Tables burned

Three men have been charged with mischief after picnic tables at the Paradise Cove Campgrounds were burned. The tables were placed in a campfire in the early hours of May 22.

Charged in the incident were Paul Jones, 20, of Bowmanville, Michael Kellett, 19, of Oshawa and Carl Metcalfe, 19, of Bowmanville. The three will appear in Minden court June 29.

Investigating officer was Constable Al Bibby.

Break-in

A $148 case of liquor was removed from the Haliburton LCBO during the night of May 17-18. Entrance to the store was gained by smashing a large window next to a side door. The window was valued at $150.00.

Dorset

Police are investigating a break-in which took place at the Sherborne, McClintock and Livingstone municipal offices in Dorset. Access was gained by breaking a window. Nothing appeared to have been taken in the break-in.

Dune buggy

A charge of careless driving has been laid against a Minden area man following a two kilometre chase in Blairhampton. Police report they chased a dune buggy on the Peterson and Duck Lake roads.

Charged with careless driving, driving without insurance and driving while his licence is under suspension, was Frank McIntyre, 23.

Constable Barry Connelly was the investigating officer.

Sean Hyland, 25, of Burgessville, Ontario and co-driver Jeff Kinsella, 25, of London, Ontario are one of the favourite teams to win the Black Bear Rally, June 4, Minden. The event is the third in the Canadian Automobile Sport Clubs (CASC) Eastern Professional Rally Series.

Hyland who drives a powerful T/A High-Tech radial-equipped Triumph TR-8 last competed in the Michigan International Pro Rally out of Detroit. After seven special stages against the best in North America, Hyland had the Triumph in seventh place. The car had been plagued with mechanical problems and when the brakes failed the Hyland - Kinsella team wisely decided to retire.

For the Black Bear Rally, which will cover 250 k.m. incorporating 75 k.m. of special high speed stages, Hyland has done some major work on the car.

The rally starts at 2:00 p.m., on Saturday, June 4 from the Minden arena. The first car finished is due at 8:30 p.m. at the Wagon Wheel Motel.

Museum notes

-submitted-

Irene Moore chaired the regular monthly meeting of the Minden County Town Museum committee which was held last week at the Cultural Centre.

Some changes in the inside plan of the museum building were agreed upon, and then the business part of the meeting began.

A memorial fund has been established and anyone who wishes to remember loved ones or friends in this way is invited to do so by contacting treasurer, Jenny Hagan at 286-1721, or any member of the museum committee. To date, memorial gifts have been received from Mr. Sam Labarge in memory of his wife; Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kirkwood in memory of Dr. Agnes Jamieson, and, from an anonymous donor in memory of Lyman Cox and Shirley Hart of Ottawa. An appropriate memorial scroll will be hung in the museum.

The Thursday afternoon card parties have begun, and are proving very successful. If you have some free time you are invited to join the group at the Cultural Centre any Thursday at 1:30 p.m. It's only 75¢ for a very enjoyable afternoon.

Raffle tickets are on sale for "The Heron", a beautiful oil painting by the late Dr. Agnes Jamieson. This painting is set off by a lovely frame, and would certainly add interest and beauty to any home. The tickets are 50¢ or 3 for $1.00. They are available from museum committee members. The painting will be on display July 1 at the Hodge Podge Sale.

Plans for the above-mentioned sale are well underway. John Hulbig will be showing and demonstrating some of his antiques and collectibles. Speaking of 'collectibles', you just might come across a 'find' mixed with the hedges and podges for sale, and the delicious home baked goods is sure to set your taste buds aqiver. It is hoped that there will also be a display and sale of quilts.

The old Welch Store on Main Street will certainly be a beehive of activity on Friday, July 1 starting at 10:00 a.m. Why don't you plan to be part of the swarm?

P.S. The inside changes in the museum building will include a partition which should be made from barn boards. If you have some you would like to donate, please contact Mr. Dick Kirkwood at 286-2451. Large or small-we'll use it all!

Looking back

While people today tend to romanticize about the so-called "good old days", in reality those times were less than idealic. Life may have been simpler then, but it was also harsher. This fact is made amply clear in the following excerpt from a letter sent by A. Parsonage, a settler who arrived from England to take up residence on Lake Kashagawigamog. With him were his wife Annie and their youngest children. An older child, Charles, remaining in England, was the recipient of the letter dated November 19, 1865.

We have had a terrible time of it out here in the Bush many times on the borders of starvation leaving out the immense amount of Labour to make a farm in what might be called the Wilderness but such appears to be the general fate of first Settlers who come out without capital for all the money we could muster in the world when we landed in Quebec was two shillings and ten pence with a journey of six hundred miles before us but Providence protects the Shorn Lamb — there are no Workhouses out here and very few Goals and with all its drawbacks it is still a large and beautiful Country.

We are now in the midst of our Indian Summer which began about a week since, it will sometimes last three days and sometimes three weeks after which the snow begins to fall and the ground is covered for about five months until the (MS torn) of May when it quickly disappears and in a week the trees are out in full leaf —

I am happy to say we are in a much better position than we were this time last year when we could scarcely get Potatoes to eat we have about 9 acres chopped two thirds of which we have had under crop — it has been a splendid harvest — we have been diggin Potatoes since the 10 of July and we have now 200 Bushels with 300 Bushels of Turnips 50 Bushels of Indian Corn a nice stack of Wheat the produce of (MS torn) Acres a good patch of Oats with a fine lot of vegetables allowed to be the best Collection in the whole Township including Cabbages Carrots Beets onions cucumbers mellons squashes Pumpkins Tomatoes and several other kinds and you may perhaps think I am (MS torn) but we have now in the House a squash that would fill the bottom of a small Donkey cart I can assure you it takes a strong man to raise it off the ground we have Cucumbers a yard in length and our 300 Bushels of Turnips was the produce of two ounces of seed and no more, many of them will quite fill an ordinary pail —

The Township appears to be filling up fast most of what are called the best Lots are taken, we have a resident Clergyman living on the next Lot to ours Little Fred and Marian go there to School almost every day, Everet has been out camping in the Woods with one of the Trappers who resides in the next Townships we were glad to send him for the sake of his meals but after staying a fortnight he came home with the carcuse of a Beaver on his back not fancying the howling of the wild animals round the Camp during the night —

He is growing a fine Lad but of course still very young nothing can exceed the joyous merriment of the children out here their spirits seem almost uncontrollable not one single sigh of regret at parting from their native Land — I believe it is a great measure owing to the pureness of the atmosphere we have not had a half dozen foggy days since we have been out here. I am strongly recommended to start in my own line of Business as I am the only Butcher in the whole district and being one of the first comers of course known to every one I have no doubt there would be a great demand for meat if they only knew where to go to get it as when any of the Settlers have had meat to sell it as all been bespoke before hand it takes very little to start a Butcher in this Country the meat being less than half the price it is in England...

Council rejects extra billing

Haliburton County council discussed the recent move by Province of Ontario Treasurer Frank Miller to place a user fee on patients entering hospitals. A letter from Frontenac County sparked the debate at the May 18 council meeting.

Warden Bill Howe prompted discussion and Lutterworth Reeve Ron Gambell said he agreed with the letter's stand. He suggested the county "go one step further" and have "user fees start with the doctors". According to Gambell, patients have to be admitted by a doctor, even in emergency situations they are responsible for abuses. Gambell later introduced a resolution calling for doctors to pay a nominal user fee per person.

Sherborne et al Deputy Reeve Donald Shortreed disagreed with the user fee being placed on the patients admitted. "We pay enough now," he said. Shortreed said abuses of the system, which Gambell said is often used as a baby sitting service on weekends, should be the responsibility of the hospital, and that patients should not have to pay for mismanagement. He agreed with Gambell when the reeve proposed doctors be charged for admitting patients.

Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Lyle McKnight said he was concerned that user fees may prevent families with children to admit them when necessary.

Gambell submitted the resolution to council amid concerns of it being applicable to the issue at hand. The resolution was voted on with Gambell, Lutterworth Deputy Reeve Glynne Lewis, Dysart et al Reeve Murray Fearrey and Monmouth Reeve Keith Tallman voting for it.

Fearrey assumed there was some confusion about the aim of the resolution and this may have caused its defeat. He suggested that because hospital care is free, it is open to abuse. A nominal fee would point out the service health plan in the province provides.

Use of name concerns reeve

Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey expressed concern following a delegation heard earlier at the May 18 county council meeting, about the addition of the words Haliburton County attached to unendorsed groups.

The delegation the council heard was Sonya Holliday-Rhodes, president of the Haliburton County Anti-Pollution. He suggested the group could be associated with the county and the views held by the committee members could be misconstrued as those advocated by county council.

He said in cases such as the anti-pollution committee involved in a "technical field with a lot of opinions," the association of the group with the county could be compromising. An association established between groups using the Haliburton County appellation as part of their title and the county itself "could be a dangerous thing."

Holliday-Rhodes said she is not concerned with the name of the committee. "I didn't go about the name," she said. The committee president said that if the county felt their are complications with the name, the group would change it.

County council briefs

Items from the May 18 meeting of Haliburton County Council.

A tourism study for the county, estimated to cost about $80,000 was rejected by the committee studying the plan.

Warden Bill Howe reported to county council that discussions with members of the Chamber of Commerce and Mike Walker of the Ministry of tourism revealed the study based on a 60 - 40 funding ratio would cost the county about $30,000.

Howe pointed out that much of the course proposed has already been covered by other smaller studies.

Howe also mentioned to Walker doubts that a study of this type could be conducted in an area without an official plan, due to the diversification of aims within the area.

Engineer's report

County engineer Bill Obee informed council road work is being done on Harburn and McGilvary roads.

The surface treatment contract the county had tendered has been awarded to Miller Paving. The company fulfilled the contract last year as well.

Dump study

The county "is still in there with a chance" at receiving funds for a study of municipal dumps. Obee said he had received a verbal commitment but was still waiting for written assurance.

The study would involve a student visiting each municipal dump site "to get a better handle on volumes and who's using the site and paying taxes, and who's not. The townships are not really sure how much is going in because they are not always monitoring the dumps," said Obee.

Waste management

The county's waste management study was accepted by the council despite the reservations of some member municipalities, particularly Stanhope township.

Stanhope council wrote the county and explained that because there are some discrepancies between the report and the township's dumps, there may be other incorrect statements.

AHM suggests compaction

The municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden proposed the county's planning committee study the feasibility of a county wide system involving central dumping and compaction.

Endorsement

The Haliburton County Board of Education replied to a letter sent by county council requesting the board's position of the recent commitment by Dr. Bette Stephenson guaranteeing French speaking children the right to an equal education.

The county had received a letter from Simcoe County calling for a rejection of this policy because of its cost both to the province and counties.

Hodgson said the board passed a resolution supporting the minister of education.

Health problems

The council received a letter from Grey county asking Haliburton County council to consider demanding the province pay for 100 per cent of costs incurred if the Ministry of Health enforces "Guidelines for Mandatory Health Programs and Services under the Health Protection Act."

Monmouth Reeve Keith Tallman, council's representative on the health unit board, said Grey County would have to invest large amounts of money into upgrading their programs and facilities. He said Haliburton County is handling the programs and that about "three or four (health units) may be in trouble. I would not support that resolution," he concluded.

Shots

Tallman told county council Haliburton County has finished its immunization program. The county is the first in the province to complete the immunization program.

senior league

A beautiful morning here, a nice time of year the leaves are forming on the trees, soon we will hear the humming of the bees, gathering honey for their hives. It is a good time to be alive. It would be nice to hear a partridge drum, or a bull frog calling for more rum. We hear the song of the killdeer, it is a sign that Spring is here. Sunday my sister Pearl came and brought her daughter too, stayed and had lunch with us while passing through. For the service Sunday night we were glad the Thompsons were there, Mrs. Thompson to play, lead the singing and also led in prayer. Harold read the scripture lesson, then Rev. Burgess took the stand and spoke on Jesus healing the man with the withered hand. It is nice to have Marie Baker back after two weeks holidays, this place doesn't seem the same when Marie is away. It was good to have Doris call just to say "hello", but she won't be coming back to work for a month or so.

Tuesday morning, Rev. Westhaver of Minden United Church conducted a very interesting service in the chapel this May day. He took the scripture reading from the first chapter of Acts. Then he went on to explain the facts. We are sorry they are having so much trouble with water in Minden town, we are glad our Senior Citizen's Home was built on higher ground. After the sudden passing of one of our entertainers (Mr. Fred Watson) it was nice to have them back again with Roderick Gorveatt filling in. They play fine music and we look forward when they will come back to play for us again. We are happy to have Rachel Fearrey back with us again, with her cute little smile; she has been convalescing for a while. It would be nice to go for a bus ride one of these fine days but we can't find anyone to drive the bus away. We got our field of grass cut and it looks just fine, the men do their best to keep things running smoothly here at Hyland Crest. Our head cook had a birthday, he is feeling his age he said instead of rushing down here to cook our breakfast he would rather stay in bed. Dorothy McElwain is a jolly girl, if you ask her how she is feeling, she is right on top of the world.

The ladies from the Haliburton Gospel Light House came down Thursday afternoon, not only served a real nice lunch but played some sacred tunes. They not only fed us, but entertained us too; to say a big "thank you" is the least that we can do.

Angus Coulter has come to live with us, we hope he will like it here, we have known Angus for a good many years. The Bingo was conducted Thursday evening by members of the Kinsmen Club. Dave Stevens and Bill Kulas of the Red & White.

Each Friday afternoon it is sing song time here at Hyland Crest, with good entertainers we are surely blessed. Grace Coburn has such a lovely voice, always leads the singing. Norma or Fred play the music, much pleasure they are bringing. It is nice to have Mrs. Corby back and looking fine, after her stay in hospital for quite some time. Not to mention any names, (I would not be so bold) but one staff member took a dip and found it mighty cold. I think I'll close this letter now but we would like to say, we hope you had a real nice time on this long holiday.

As I go on my way. My life shall touch a dozen lives before this day is done; leave countless marks for good or ill 'ere sets the evening sun. So this the wish I always wish, the prayer I ever pray, "let my life help the other lives it touches by the way".

Christ never saw human suffering and sorrow without compassion and deep concern for the inward spiritual condition of suffering souls.

Workshop on senior lifestyle

A very successful workshop was presented by the Haliburton County Home Support Services New Horizons Communications Committee at the Pinestone Inn May 6. The theme of the workshop was "A Healthy Lifestyle."

The workshop drew 113 individuals including four visitors from the Scarborough Home support services. Sharon Arrendi, the Scarborough coordinator was also in attendance.

The program opened with an interesting talk by Leslie Orpana. Leslie, the director of community nutrition services for the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Unit, discussed the affects of drug and alcohol misuse by seniors, especially as it relates to their nutritional status.

Minden W.I.

Mrs. L. Cox, president, opened the meeting on May 18, of Minden W.I., at the Library Cultural Centre by reading a verse, "Wonder of springtime". After the usual opening, Mrs. B. Wood showed the film, Louisburg, which showed this fort's restoration. Mrs. A. Kernohan presented Mrs. Wood with a little gift of thanks.

The meeting continued with the Roll Call of Verses by the hostesses and there were 21 members and 2 guests present.

The minutes were accepted as read and Mrs. W. Moore gave her report of sending 22 cards since the last meeting for sick people, shut-ins or for other occasions. Collections for this fund and Pennies for Friendship were taken.

Plans were competed for our bus trip to Orillia and Barrie on June 22 and people may give Mrs. Kernohan their name except from June 1-12 when they must contact Mrs. M. Sears.

There was some discussion and final plans will be made at the June meeting for a bake-craft sale in August.

The executive meeting to plan the programmes for next year will be at the Library May 25 at 1 p.m. and all conveners are to attend.

The District Director, Mrs. Clare Brown gave her report of District Annual—a bus to Area Convention, Craft Day October 26, N.B. is our twin for pin pals or a programme. Burnt River celebrates their 75 Anniversary June 15-24.

The next meeting will be a pot luck luncheon at the United Church Hall on Wednesday June 15 at 12:30 p.m. with all ladies welcome and we bring our own table setting.

The meeting adjourned and all enjoyed the delicious lunch served by the committee.

Dr. Joy Ballard of Wilberforce then addressed the group on the subject of attitudes. She delighted the audience with her poems, humour and down-to-earth advice.

Before the meeting adjourned for lunch, Marilyn Stouffer led the group in a sing song with Marie Wallace accompanying on the piano. It was a real musical treat.

Following the meal, the audience enjoyed a talk by Dr. Greg Blaney of Ottawa who spoke on holistic medicine. He touched on a number of topics in his speech including how to handle stress creatively, improved fitness and adapting to change without distress. A brief question and answer period followed. The master of ceremonies for the session was Dick McCann.

Cy and Pat Pimm arrived from Clearwater, Florida in time for the christening of their granddaughter, Brittany Rose Prentice on May 8th at Minden United Church. They have not settled into their new home in Lutterworth Estates for the summer. We all bid them welcome.

Walter and Susan Perk of Lutterworth Estates have returned from a winter holiday in Florida.

From Hyland Crest a very happy birthday to Mary Grozelle, Della Curry and Victor Spencely who celebrated their birthdays in May, and to Emma Stutt, Lola Prentice, Madeline Trepanier, Ethel Boice, Ada Lewis and Sabina McGuire who will be celebrating their birthdays in June. Many happy returns to you all.

Mr. Bill Langman and friend Ruth of Toronto, are spending a week's vacation at his cottage at Maple Lake.

Mr. Bud Sawyer of Toronto, spent the long week-end at the farm at Maple Lake.

Julie Holliday-Rhodes, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Holliday-Rhodes was operated on last week at Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay for appendicitis, however I am happy to report that Julie is doing nicely and has been moved to Minden Red Cross Hospital. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Friends of Bradley Robinson will be happy to know that he is enjoying a short holiday in France.

The Thift Shop at St. Paul's Parish will be open this Friday from 1:30 to 4 p.m. I don't need to remind you of all the excellent buys that are offered.

I am sorry to report the death of Mr. George Barnes of Deep Bay Road, Minden. Our deepest sympathy to the members of his family.

A euchre party is held every Monday evening at 8 p.m. at Club 35, Hall's Lake. Prizes are awarded to winners and everyone is welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kuchelema of Toronto, spent the long weekend with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Dan McKelvey of Minden and their grandchildren Shane and Jesse.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith MacIntosh of Oshawa spent the weekend with their families in Minden and Maple Lake.

ACW held their annual bake sale last Saturday, and from all accounts it was a huge success. The ladies really out did themselves and are to be commended for their efforts.

Those attending the Museum Card Party at the Library Cultural Centre on May 19 had a happy time playing euchre. Winners of Wintario tickets were: high May Eldridge, lone hands Eleanor Pye and low Irene Houghton. This project is for everyone and funds will go to the Minden County Town Museum, so come out and "meet the gang" next Thursday at 1:30.

Last Friday I journeyed to Cobourg for the radio interview I mentioned in last week's column. It seemed to be quite successful. On the way home the traffic was horrendous and I was glad to get home. I feel sorry for all the cottagers who were looking forward to a pleasant weekend in the country only to be frustrated by the inclement weather. I do hope better days will be upon us in the near future.

This is the last week for the children's art at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery, so do try to take advantage of this great exhibit put on by our talented local children.

On Thursday June 2 the artistry of Irwin Karnick will be shown. As I have mentioned before this man is a fantastic photographer so it will be a very exciting show. On opening night there will be a reception with refreshments and everyone is welcome.

Please support our gallery by joining with a membership. Single memberships are $10.00 and family memberships are $15.00. We really need your help in maintaining this fine cultural centre.

The next Gallery meeting will be held on Monday, June 6th at 7:30 p.m.

For anyone who enjoys fine literature I recommend Fyodor Dostoevsky's The Brothers Karamazov. It is certainly a classic.

Hymn
God's songsters are singing
His praises at Dawn,
They're bidding the night and the darkness be gone.
While softly above them, the grey of the sky
Gives way to bright blue as the morning draws nigh.
The flowers asleep in their warm earthy beds,
Are waked by the sun, and to Him raise their heads,
They joyously nod, keeping time to the song
A great Ode to God that will last the day long.

kid's korner

by Jean Lacey

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Some have hidden words or sayings, some do not. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Q: What grows up as it grows down?

A: A gosling.

Q: What is the definition of nothing?

A: A balloon with its skin peeled off.

Q: How do you catch a squirrel?

A: Climb a tree and act like a nut.

Q: How do you keep a noisy dog off the street?

A: Put him in a barking

lot.

Q: When is a car not a car?

A: When it turns into a driveway.

Q: When is a boat like a pile of snow?

A: When its a drift.

Q: When a head of lettuce, a garden hose and a tomato had a race, who won?

A: Nobody. The lettuce was a head, the hose is still running, and the tomato couldn't ketch up.

Q: When a skunk, a duck and a frog go to the circus, who gets in?

A: The duck gets in because he has a bill. The frog gets in because he has a greenback. The skunk can't get in because he has only a cent (scent).

Q: When is a chair like a lady's dress?

A: When it's sat in.

If any of you kids have jokes you would like to share, please send them to me care of the paper. I would be pleased to include them.

Bye for now. Take it easy. God bless till next time.
